

ADSL Pricing and Information

Comporium is pleased to announce that ADSL service is now available in over 98% of Transylvania County. Contact us at 828-884-5577 (Option #1) to inquire about service available to you.

ADSL service permits Internet access at speeds much faster than 56k dial-up connections and will include unlimited Internet access for a fixed monthly fee. ADSL service uses the same copper lines that deliver your basic telephone service and permits voice and Internet traffic to take place at the same time on the same line without interference.

Please call Comporium's Customer Service at 884-5577 (Option #1) if you would like more information about ADSL or if you would like to verify that your home or business is located in an area where ADSL service is available.

1. What is ADSL?

*The Asymmetrical Digital Subscriber Line (ADSL) is a technology used to deliver high speed Internet and telephone service over the same telephone line. Traditional dial-up service is limited to under 56k for download speeds and under 30k for upload speeds. ADSL will deliver data at speeds in the 100s of kilobits per second and do it without the need for a second line.

4. How does ADSL work?

The telephone network was designed to listen to frequencies that the human voice uses. ADSL uses very high frequencies that do not interfere with voice or features that come with telephone service. Fax machines and modems should also function simultaneously with ADSL.
